GET READY FOR MARCH TO THE CITY OF BERLIN

Washington, June 7.—American troops in training at home are being especially schooled now in preparation for the forward movement against the German which is certain to follow final defeat of the present German offensive campaign.

Orders have been issued to division commanders, to lay greater stress on training for open warfare and reduce the time devoted to teaching trench warfare specialties.

The men are being hardened to long marches, given target practice without end and thoroughly trained to care for themselves in the give-and-take of open combat, all in preparation for the advance toward Berlin.

Military observers say this change in the midst of the greatest effort of the German General Staff of the entire war speaks significantly of the spirit of confidence that pervades the councils and armies of America and the allies.

When many of the men now in training here reach France, long marches and swift maneuvering against a retreating foe may well be the order of the day.

Infantry officers returning from the front have been insisting recently upon greater attention to general elements of warfare and less to the fine details of position fighting in fixed trench lines.

These officers say the American soldier takes naturally to training of this sort and that he should be developed as highly as possible in all-round soldiering, leaving the details of trench warfare education to be added by a brief post-graduate course when he reaches France.

This view found ready sympathy here, for it is believed the old stalemate of the trench lines has broken never to be restored.

Today's news from the front added to the growing conviction here that General Foch has outgeneraled the Germans on the Aisne front, in having brought them to a halt without weakening the defenses of the Channel ports.

Territory has been yielded, but no point of strategic value and the Germans must try again to draw away the supporting lines in Picardy and Flanders, or face the necessity of hurrying their army into the wall of man power—French, British and American—that now blocks the road to the Channel ports.

Territory has been yielded, but no point of strategic value, and the Germans must try again to draw away the supporting lines in Picardy and Flanders, or face the necessity of hurrying their army into the wall of man power—French, British and American—that now blocks the road to the Channel ports.

Officers who have come from the front say that the American units pouring into France in a steady and growing stream despite German U-boats at both ends of the 3,000 mile water haul are arriving well advanced in training for the business ahead of them.

ALLIES ADVANCE THEIR LINES AT TWO POINTS IN MARNE FIGHT

London, June 7.—Allied forces advanced their lines at two points on the western portion of the Marne battle front yesterday and recaptured positions which the Germans had temporarily occupied on the eastern part of the front, night official statements reported.

"Between the Ourcq and the Marne, an attack carried out by French and American troops enabled us to advance our lines about one kilometer (.621 miles) in the region of Neuilly-La-Poterie and Bussières," the French communiqué said. "We took 270 prisoners, including ten officers. This refers to the advance made by American marines northwest of Chateau-Thierry. Staff despatches report an advance of two to four kilometers, on an eight kilometer front."

French troops, aided by tanks, advanced their lines west of Longpont (9 miles southwest of Soissons). The Germans delivered a series of local attacks between Rheims and the Marne. They were completely checked at Champlat (five miles north of the river) but occupied Bligny

CAN'T BREAK OUR NERVE.

Annapolis, Md., June 7.—"Germany has intensified the fire of our passion," by raids off the coast, said Secretary Daniels to the graduating class of naval cadets yesterday.

"It is not what the enemy does that counts. It is what we do. He may bend our lines, he may even break them, but he can't break our spirit. With our heads up and our hearts unbowed, the end is certain," Daniels declared. Germany can never win the war.

The secretary revealed that naval casualties to date were thirty-eight officers and 629 men; and that fifty-five men had been interned and seven made prisoners.

Ensigns who graduated yesterday entered at once on duty aboard fighting ships.

SUBMARINE GETS BRITISH SHIP IN U. S. WATERS

Washington, June 7.—The navy has lost contact with at least one German U-boat raider.

This fact, apparent from the unhampered sinking of the British steamer Harpathian, 100 miles off the Virginia capes, Wednesday, was confirmed by navy officials today. The Harpathian was torpedoed Wednesday morning, and her crew with one wounded, was brought into Hampton Roads last night, by the steamer Palmer.

The submarine operating off the Capes moved out to sea about 60 miles since last previously heard from—when it sank the Norwegian steamer Eidsvold. Navy men frankly admitted that this movement had not been traced but they were still hopeful that contact would be established with the U-boat, whose plan appears to be the hunting of bigger game than unarmed coastal steamers, with no military value.

This appeared the case from the fact that a torpedo was used on the Harpathian. Heretofore, with one exception, the Boche has spared his torpedoes.

DON'T LIKE IT DILUTED.

Cincinnati, June 7.—Cincinnati beer drinkers object to diluted "suds." Complaint that saloonkeepers are mixing "near-beer" with almost near-beer, now being brewed in conformity with governmental order, was lodged with Internal Revenue Collector Gilligan.

Many saloonists are said to have so arranged their beer-drawing equipment as to make it possible to draw from kegs of beer and near-beer, simultaneously, thereby depriving customers of the beverage they think they are paying for and possibly defrauding the government. Near-beer is taxable at the rate of 31 cents a barrel, while the tax on the real article is $3.

80,000 MEN CALLED.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—Eighty thousand men have been called to date under the military service act and 73,900 have complied, according to figures available today. There has been a great increase in the number of recruits in Quebec. It is now believed that the 100,000 to be raised under the act will be with the colors before parliament convenes.

THE VIEW U. S. AIRMEN GET OF RUINED YPRES; THIS PICTURE WAS TAKEN BY AMERICAN AVIATOR

Devastated Ypres.

HINDENBURG'S MANPOWER WEAKENED BY HIS FIERCE EARLY OFFENSIVE

By J. W. T. Mason.

New York, June 7.—Whatever sectors Von Hindenburg may choose for his next sacrificial offerings of German man-power the future onslaught cannot develop the power of those that have passed, because Germany's reserve forces are now depleted to a highly serious degree.

Since the beginning of the German spring offensive on May 21, Von Hindenburg has lost at least half a million of his reserves.

These have been used up, both by furnishing new men to replace casualties and by taking over the active protections of the extensions of the German front. It is improbable that Von Hindenburg now has in reserve more than 400,000 troops and the number may not exceed three hundred thousand.

This is enough for another effort to shatter the allies line but it is not enough to permit any degree of persistence in such an attempt. Each failure to break through or to reach a vital spot now becomes a dangerous handicap to Von Hindenburg, if he gains a few miles of territory. Every extra mile of frontage taken over by Von Hindenburg requires the withdrawal of six thousand men from the German reserves for its protection. And yet, however, strategically wise it may be for Von Hindenburg to begin to shorten his line at non-essential points he fears to do so because of the effect a retiring movement would have upon German opinion at home.

Every extra mile of entrenchments requires a similar weakening of Gen. Foch's reserves. But the ultimate effect is far different for the allies, because they are not yet on the offensive. The depletion of Von Hindenburg's reserves in order to guard an extension of the front means a weakening of German's final effort to win the war by offensive tactics. But it would suit Gen. Foch's tactics, perfectly if all of his own mobile reserves were to be used to man new miles of trenches, provided a similarly fixed duty were enforced upon all of Von Hindenburg's reserves.

AMERICANS ARE AWARDED CROSS

With the American Army in Lorraine, June 7.—The following Americans have been awarded the distinguished service cross for "conspicuous heroism":
Lieut. G. B. Redwood, Corporal H. J. Monagony, and Privates E. V. Armstrong, B. H. Bolt and C. L. Shumati.

While on patrol duty they invaded the enemy trenches, captured twice their number of Germans, drove off a rescue party and brought the prisoners back to the American lines. Valuable information was obtained from the prisoners.

Lieut. C. R. Holmes and Sergeant J. A. Murphy. They crawled through twenty strands of enemy wire, leaped on a German sentinel and brought him back across No Man's Land.

Corporal E. T. Burch, who rescued a wounded comrade under a heavy barrage fire.

Captain G. R. Hulsart, and Lieutenants D. Macassar and P. M. Cloudy, engineer officers who coolly continued their work under shell fire when they could have retired.

SHIPPING BOARD SHOWS MORE SPEED

Washington, June 7.—Exceeding ship production of April by 122,000 tons, the emergency fleet corporation turned out 344,450 dead weight tons in May, the U. S. shipping board announced today.

There were launched during the month thirty-nine steel ships of a dead weight of 228,750 tons and thirty-two wooden ships, totaling 115,700 tons.

CASUALTIES

Washington, June 7.—General Pershing reported forty-eight casualties to the war department today divided as follows:

Seventeen killed in action; 12 dead from wounds, seven dead from disease; six dead from accidents; six wounded severely.

Lieutenants Robert B. Anderson, Wilson, N. C., Grosvenor P. Cather Bladen, Neb.; Henry W. Clark, Boston, were killed in action. Brig. Gen. Robert E. L. Michie, Staunton, Va., died of disease. Lieut. Ralph M. Noble, Galesburg, Ill., previously reported missing, is now reported dead.

No Ohio names are in the list.

TYPICAL PRUSSIAN FRIGHTFULNESS EXHIBITED IN SUBMARINE RAID

New York, June 7.—Real Prussian frightfulness is coming into play in the submarine raids on Atlantic coast shipping, according to details of the steamer Harpathian sinking, received here today.

This British ship of 2,800 tons was torpedoed without warning between 90 and 100 miles off the Virginia Capes. Captain Owen and his crew of forty one had barely time to get into the boats. Flying timbers from the explosion, broke one man's leg and injured the head of another. The attack came at 5 a. m., when most of the crew were asleep, and some tumbled into the boats scantily clad. The German pirate popped up for a minute and was seen to be a big craft, bearing the number 102 or 112 on her conning tower. For 26 hours the Harpathian's raiders were heading.

HOOSIERS BID LAST FAREWELL TO FAIRBANKS

Indianapolis, June 7.—Hoosiers today said their last farewell to Charles Warren Fairbanks.

While the body of the former Vice President lay in state in the Capitol, long lines of his former friends, neighbors and admirers marched through the corridors. The steady and monotonous tramp, tramp of marching feet on tiled floors echoed through the halls as a funeral dirge.

Lines were forming at daybreak for the ceremony although the doors did not open until 10 o'clock. Then a steady stream of men, women and children of every walk of life passed by the bier in tribute to the memory of the statesman, until mid afternoon when the body was taken to the Fairbanks' home for the final rites.

A military guard and mounted police escorted the funeral procession. The services at the home this afternoon will be conducted by Bishop W. F. McDowell of Washington, D. C., for years one of Fairbanks' most intimate friends.

From the home, the body will be taken to Crown Hill cemetery, where lies the remains of James Whitcomb Riley and other noted Hoosiers, to be laid in its last resting place.

HOW AWFULLY KIND

Paris, June 7.—It is reported that most of the German political parties have agreed upon the desirability of offering peace to the allies, the Echo de Paris declared today.

"Chancellor Hertling will make a very sensational speech in the Reichstag soon."

Marines Hurl German Forces Back 2 Miles

With the French Armies on the Marne, June 7.—Both yesterday's and today's fighting confirms the statement that the Germans are checked everywhere.

Their present attack which are purely local are attaining no results while French counter attacks invariably result in both prisoners and advantageous rectification of local positions.

Paris, June 7.—Fierce fighting is still going on northwest of Chateau-Thierry, where French and American troops have pushed the Germans back, the French war office announced today.

Allied gains in other parts of the front, including the recapture of Bligny by the British were reported.

"Between the Ourcq and the Marne, local operations are going on in the region of Neuilly-La-Poterie and Bussières," the communiqué said.

The first and second divisions of the Prussian guard, after trying four days to advance along both sides of the Ourcq to turn the forest of Villers-Cotterets from the South, were completely thrown back by French counterattacks with heavy losses.

German night bombing squadrons are now using illuminating bombs attached to a parachutes.

"The French progression continued. The French took Vinly and the woods to the east, Neuilly-La-Poterie station and the northern borders of that village."

"Further south, the Americans took ground on Torcy-Belleau-Boursches front."

By Fred S. Ferguson.

With the Americans on the Marne, June 6.—(Night)—American marines, after hurling the Germans back one and a quarter to two and a half miles on a five mile front northwest of Chateau-Thierry this morning renewed the attack late today. The battle is increasing in intensity as this despatch is filed.

There was violent fighting all last night, the Americans occupying Bussières, Torcy, Boursches, Neuilly wood, part of Belleau wood and the railway station and the railway at Boursches.

The fighting began last night and at 3:45 this morning the marines started to advance singing and whistling "Yankee Doodle" as they trotted across No Man's Land. The infantry on the right of the Marines, advanced in the face of a heavy fire.

In less than four hours, the marines had completely cleared Neuilly wood of the enemy, taking more than a hundred prisoners and ten machine guns.

French infantry, on the left, took 160 prisoners. Continuing their advance the Americans fought their way through the crack Prussian troops opposing them, pushing their way past Bussières and occupying Torcy, part of Belleau wood, the village of Boursches and the railway station and railway in the latter place. The desperate defense by the enemy prevented the Americans from attaining some of their objectives but the attack was renewed late today with great violence.

Boursches, which has been fought over several times in the new Marne battle, is about four miles due west of Chateau-Thierry. Belleau is about two miles north and slightly west of Boursches. Belleau wood lies between the two villages. Torcy is about half a mile northwest of Belleau. Bussières is a mile west of Torcy. Neuilly La Poterie is two miles and a half west of Bussières. Neuilly wood lies south of the village. The railway captured by the Americans runs north westward from Chateau-Thierry, through Boursches, Belleau, Torcy, Bussières, Neuilly and Vaux, crossing the Ourcq at Neuilly.

Regimental headquarters officers who had not slept for five days and nights, sat at telephones during the attack, receiving reports and sending out orders. Belleau wood was subjected to a fierce artillery bombardment prior to the attack but the infantry encountered elaborate machine gun defenses which was still in action.

Marines finally took the northwest corner of the wood, but the Boches then retaking the wood beyond, in fierces counter-attacks.

I was at Brigade headquarters when the report came of the counter-attacks.

"Hold on! hang on! Sibley! We're coming out to help you!" was the cheery word a major phoned back, though he himself was near exhaustion from lack of sleep.

A few minutes later came reports from various companies that they were reaching their objectives and establishing communication with each other. In the meantime, trench mortars were ordered up and blew up Boche positions that were still holding out.

The flash of artillery lighted the sky and night. The banging of guns was constant. At dawn I went to an advanced position at the extreme right. The German artillery was becoming more active.

Practically all the fighting had been carried on through wheat fields and woods. The Americans would rush ahead a little way, pause to resist a counter-attack and then rush on again. The Boches clung to the railway station at Boursches for several hours.

Finally the American rush could not be denied and our boys swept in

AUSTRIA ON THE VERGE OF REVOLUTION

Berne, June 7.—Austria is about to undergo an experience similar to that of Russia, when the Czar was deposed, according to statements today by travelers returning from Vienna.

They declared it is significant that innumerable attempts have been made against military works and establishments. In the Adriatic region, Slavs have destroyed mines in the ports and canals of Dalmatia and on the Croatian coast. In Bosnia, Hungarian patrols have been massacred and railways seriously damaged.

The food situation is very serious and the government has posted decrees, declaring that revolt, desertion or complicity in military conspiracies is punishable by death.

At Munich, the burgomaster narrowly escaped lynching. A mob, which charged he had filled his residence with government food, stormed the house, but he had fled. They seized the food and sold it at huge profits.

The food situation is some parts of Germany also is growing worse, it is reported.

At Cologne a mob attacked an unguarded food train, completely emptying it.

ALLIED HOSPITAL SHIP IS SUNK BY A GERMAN MINE

Amsterdam, June 7.—The allied hospital ship, Koningin Regentes, was sunk by a mine in the North Sea, while bound from an English to a Dutch port. Four firemen were killed.

It was at first believed that the British delegation to the Anglo-German conference for the exchange of war prisoners at the Hague was aboard, but it later developed that the mission was on the steamer, Sindoro, which reduced the passengers and crew of the Koningin Regentes.

It was reported today that the Germans have seized Dutch trawlers, Zeester and Roefina, and have taken them into Swinemund.

IF THE HUNS DON'T GET HIM

Columbus, June 7.—"If the Huns don't get me, I will be back after the war to finish my contract with Ohio." This letter, written on British army stationery in France, was received by Warden Thomas of the state penitentiary from Michael O'Hara, Lucas county, an inmate who walked away from the penitentiary stone quarry July 2, 1917.

THE WOMAN WHO CHANGED

By JANE PHELPS.

AN OLD MARRIED WOMAN. CHAPTER CVII.

I had talked bravely to Evelyn, but all the time I had a feeling that she was partly right that Merton Gray WAS in love with me, as she had said. But I had no intention of admitting this even to Evelyn. I laughed at her for a silly girl, and told her she was mistaken.

That the hearing of Julia Collins toward George tinged that of my own toward Merton Gray I was aware. I was always more free with him, acted more pleased to be with him after I had been made unhappy because of their open liking for each other.

My uneasiness concerning George's relations with Julia Collins grew greater as the fall advanced. We were very gay, and it seemed to me they were together constantly. There was nothing really tangible, that is, nothing save my own fears and jealous imaginings; yet I felt positive that this woman whom George had known so intimately before we were married, and whom her best friend said had been in love with him for years, was a menace to my happiness. That I must bend all my efforts to being like her if I were to compete with her.

THE CHARM OF A VOICE

Julia Collins had a soft musical voice. George had often spoken of it to me when I became excited and spoke too loudly. Now every time I heard that soft languorous voice purring to him I fairly shuddered.

I not only loved my husband but I WANTED to love him. I had read somewhere that when love is dead it is more often dislike or aversion that springs up in its place than friendship, or even tolerance. That people who lose love out of their lives very often lose a large slice of their character as well.

Often when I read such things as this I would be morbid. I had tried so hard, and had accomplished so little. The kindness of the summer seemed now so far away. George was once more the critical fault-finding mentor. There seemed scarcely a day when I did not displease him in something. When he corrected me, he frequently said it was for my good he did it; but I couldn't feel that. It did me any good. I felt I was growing hard and bitter; that all the sweetness was being extracted from my life.

I was in this mood one night when we attended a large reception given by Geraldine Ross. All the way there George had talked of my harsh voice. I had answered him rather quickly when he hurried me as I dressed.

"I suppose you are wishing I had a voice like Mrs. Collins," I finally said, exasperated.

"I certainly do. It is a pleasure to listen to her speak."

"A pleasure you indulge in very often."

"After hearing your strident tones no one could blame me."

"Thank you! I will try not to inflict them upon you often if that is necessary." I returned just as we reached the house. How I had the courage to say such a thing I don't know. But the look he gave me when he assisted me from the car showed he would not easily forget nor forgive my foolish speech.

Merton Gray sympathizes. "You are unhappy tonight!" Merton Gray said without preamble as we stood together. George had devoted himself, almost from the moment we arrived, to Julia Collins. One could scarcely blame him, I thought bitterly as I looked at her. She was marvelously beautiful, in sheer black and rose, and aside from her beauty there was something compelling about her. "Heady," I heard Bert Ross say to Madge Loring.

"Not exactly," I replied to Merton, trying to speak naturally, and to smile. Both efforts were failures.

"Tell me," he urged, drawing me away from those who could hear. What has happened?"

"Nothing—that is, nothing new," although I tried to laugh, there was intense bitterness in my voice.

"Old things are sometimes hard to bear," he said as we sat down in a deserted corner of the room.

"If I were different, I wouldn't care! Most women, you know—of your set, wouldn't!"

"You haven't told me what it is yet."

"Nothing—as I told you save praise of another woman. Praise of her voice, and blame for mine. It is the little things we fuss over, isn't it?" I tried desperately to put a little gaiety into my voice.

"Always. And just as always the things we should not allow to annoy us; that is we shouldn't nine times out of ten." Then more seriously: "You of all women I know should not be hurt because another's voice is praised. Anyone who sings as you do certainly should not be hurt over such a trifle."

Tomorrow—A Declaration of Love.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT.

Estate of Lydia Jane Brandenburg, deceased.

Carrie D. Geyer has been appointed and qualified as executrix of the estate of Lydia Jane Brandenburg late of Greene county, Ohio, deceased.

Dated this 21st day of May A. D. 1918.

J. CARL MARSHALL
Probate Judge of said County.

Ice cream cones and alcoholic drinks, sweet pickles and wines, essential products since the publication of the original list, which included beverage syrups, candies, cereals, chewing gum, confections, cocoa and chocolate, condiments, flavoring extracts, soda water, soft drinks, sweet pickles and wines.

Mr. Croxton says the control of the distribution of sugar to manufacturers will continue during the period of the war, and that the general tendency toward the gradual elimination of the less essential industries will be cumulative as the war progresses.

Everyday
Etiquette

"What is the proper thing to do when one learns that a friend is going abroad," asked Ethel.

"One should send a steamer letter, a basket of fruit, a box of candy or an appropriate gift," said her sister.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, the Penetrating, Disappearing, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, blotches, ringworm, rashes and similar skin troubles. A little zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today, and save all further distress.

THEATERS

Bijou.

Elsie Ferguson finished her two-nights picture engagement at the Bijou Saturday night, her appearance in the Artercraft picture "The Rise of Jenny Cushing" from the novel of that name, being one of the most interesting screen stories seen here for some time.

The biggest motion picture announcement of the season is the coming of "The Kaiser—the Beast of Berlin" which play is at the Bijou theater next Wednesday and Thursday matinee and night. The picturization of the scenario by Rupert Julian, is the most truthful expose of the true character of the "dog of Pitsdam," that has been screened. A most enthralling story of the maniacal beast is told in this picture which stirs the dormant patriotism of every true American.

Orphium.

The weekly showing of the Orphium serial will be the attraction at this theater Saturday.

GIRLS' PAINS AND WEAKNESS

Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Thousands of Girls Benefited

St. Louis, Mo.—"When I was only fifteen years old mother had to put me to bed every month for two days because I suffered such pain. I also suffered from a weakness and mother took me to a doctor but he did not help me. Finally mother made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has made me strong and healthy. So when mother or I hear any woman complaining we tell them about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for me."

—Mrs. JOHN FRAMES, 1121 N. 18th St., St. Louis, Mo.

Girls who suffer as Mrs. Frame did should not hesitate to give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, as the evidence that is constantly being published proves beyond question that this grand old remedy has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine.

For confidential advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their forty years experience is at your service.

$10,000 FOR A HOG.

Greene County prides itself as a stock raising county, but we have not heard of any of our stock raisers getting as much as $10,000 for a single animal, yet one of our neighbors has "gone over the top" to that figure.
R. A. Long, of Kansas City, has added to his pure bred stock, at Longview Farm, a $10,000 boar, Jack's Orion King II, bred by Ira Jackson, of Tippencanoe City, Miami County, Ohio. This boar is said to be the greatest Duroc ever bred by Mr. Jackson—its sire Orion Cherry King, having put twenty champions and grand champions in the shows of 1916 and 1917, while its dam, Jack King Lady, has been a producer of the same kind.
Ira Jackson, of Tippencanoe City, is a noted stock raiser, having annual sales attended by buyers from all over the country.
We think of $10,000 as a small sum to be paid for a work of art to adorn the home of some one who is well to do, even though it brings pleasure only to those who look upon it.
How much more valuable to mankind is the work of the breeder's art which is capable of improving the meat industry of the world? It is highly commendable in those who have wealth to employ their powers to improve the quality of our live stock and otherwise to advance the cause of agriculture.

CONCERNING GLASS IN BREAD.

All that glitters in a loaf of bread is not necessarily glass. It is well known by this time that there was never any foundation for the "ground glass scare." But why did so many apparently intelligent people happen to fancy that their bread had glass in it?
An explanation is given by experts employed by the Journeymen Bakers and Confectionary Workers' International Union. They report: "Corn flour under the microscope shows many hard, flinty pieces of the endosperm (germ), which have a very glassy appearance. When baked in a quick oven some of these particles retain their glass-like appearance, though in the ordinary process of baking this appearance is lost."
In bran flours, they say, a nervous person might easily fancy that particles of the hard outer husk were glass. The granular substance sometimes solidifies into a hard, transparent mass which might be mistaken for glass.
The natural conclusion is that most of the people who reported having found glass in their bread were simply deceived by the unwonted appearance of the new materials we're using for breadstuffs.

Poison in Absinthe.

Absinthe, according to the Medical Record, owes its toxic properties to two types of ingredients: The first, carvone, represented by absinthe proper, hyssop, fennel, etc., the second, stupefying, represented by anise, mint, coriander, angelica, origanum, halm mint, etc. It used to be believed that the ill effects of absinthe were produced by thurone, but it has lately been shown that few, if any, of the plants used in manufacturing absinthe contain that drug.

BOWERSVILLE

The farmers are very busy plowing corn.
The many friends of Mr. Chester Ervin, of Springfield, formerly of this place, are sorry to hear of him being confined to his home with typhoid fever and heart trouble.
Mr. Fred Ross and family and Wilber Ross and family spent Sunday at Mr. Chester Brown's at Port William.
Mr. E. A. Story spent Tuesday evening at Springfield on business.
Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Oxley spent Decoration Day at Camp Sherman visiting their nephew.
Miss Opal Robinson, of west of town, entertained about 20 of her friends on Tuesday afternoon at a party, it being her 11th birthday. Games of all sorts were indulged in. Pink and white ice cream and pink and white cake was served, the cake having fourteen candles. Miss Robinson received a number of presents. Those who were present were, Misses Margaret Ross, Mary Francis Letters, Grace Pendry, Zora Lyons, Elsie Haughey, Vida Stewart, Ethel Cline, Hazel Chitty, Lenore Lewis, Clara Henderson, Hester Bowermaster, Edith O'Bryant, Odessa Woods, Hazel Robinson, Ona Beard, Martha Franklin, Geraldine Franklin, Bernard Franklin, Vernon Robinson, Mrs. Chas. Beal and daughter Clara, Mrs. Tommie Robinson, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Gene Beal. All departed at a late hour for their homes wishing Miss Opal many bright and happy birthdays.
Messrs. I. F. and E. A. Stewart are remodeling their blacksmith and paint shop into an up-to-date shop and garage. They are putting in a six foot plate glass front, with red brick columns, nice office and show room, and will soon be ready to accommodate their customers in their new quarters.
Mr. G. C. Poltz and family are visiting Mrs. Poltz parents of New Dover, Union county, O.
A number of boys from this township went to Xenia Wednesday to register.
Mr. O. H. McCoolough sold his hardware and grocery to Bobb Bros., at Wilmington. Mr. McCoolough has not decided what he will do yet.
Children's Day exercises will be held at the M. P. church Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Everybody invited.
Mr. Elmer Moon, son of E. G. Moon, died at the home of his parents on the Jamestown and Bowersville pike on Wednesday evening at 10:30, of ascending paralysis, caused by the grip. Mr. Moon was one of the high school graduates in a class of eight. He was a very bright and intelligent young man, and was 19 years old the 6th of May. He had not been well for some time but was not thought seriously ill until only a few days before his death. He was a member of the M. P. church and was always found at his post. Funeral services were held at the M. P. church Friday, May 31, at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. G. C. Poltz. Burial at Port William.

BELLBROOK

Dr. Bedinger, a former resident of this place, and who enlisted in the Medical Corps of the service, stopped here on his way to North Carolina and visited with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Turner and family, and called on other old friends.
Miss Marie Weller, who has been teaching in Ansonia, has returned home for the summer.
Little Morris Finley is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bloss of Dayton.
Mrs. Haven and daughter of Belmont, and Mr. George Earnhart visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Esom Earnhart, Sunday.
James Turner and children of Springfield returned home, Tuesday, after spending a few days with Mr. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Turner.
The Presbyterian and M. P. Churches will give a social at the Town Hall, Saturday evening, June 8th. Everybody come.

THIN, IRRITABLE CHILD

Gained Flesh, Strength and Good Nature by Taking Vinol.
Middletown, Conn.—"I used Vinol for my little girl 5 years old for a run-down, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement, and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter to live with."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.
There is no secret about Vinol—it owes its success in such cases to beef and cod liver, iron and manganese, phosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building tonics known. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere. adv

TREATIES STILL 'PAPER SCRAPS' IN OPINION OF HUN ARCH FIEND

By William Phillip Simms.
With the British Armies in France, June 7.—The German Emperor and the free-booters about him continue to regard formal treaties as "mere scraps of paper," according to a letter just found on a prisoner.
Furthermore there is every indication that the arch bishop of Cologne was used as a tool when he wrote to the Pope, requesting that the allies be asked not to bombard German cities on Corpus Christi day. A letter written by a Cologne resident to a relative in the field sardonically admitted there would be no Corpus Christi processions on Whit Sunday, parades, either in the streets or inside the churches. After describing a British air raid on Cologne a few days before, the Cologne resident wrote: "The wretches wanted to pay another visit but only came as far as Wesseling, where both sections were heavily machine gunned, but tomorrow is Corpus Christi and we feel sure another attempt will be made, for the scoundrels must believe processions will be held."
"No processions will be allowed however, and the Whit Sunday procession is forbidden."
Upon receiving the archbishop's request, the British agreed not to bomb German cities on Corpus Christi day. They kept their word. On the other hand the Germans shelled and tried to bomb Paris.
Out here, French villages and towns were bombed in the same ruthless manner, regardless of the implied agreement that neither side would bomb open towns during church festival.
This bombing still continues. Tiny villages which are in no way connected with the military operations are mercilessly strafed every night. I saw a group of women, children and old people huddled beside the road near a village I asked what was wrong. They replied they were spending the starlight nights in the open as the Huns always took advantage of these nights to bomb them. There was no soldier near or in the hamlet.

From a conversation with an officer of the German air forces, who had been taken prisoner, I learned that the Germans are determined completely to lay waste certain towns far behind the lines. Apparently they are carrying out a scheme of frightfulness, the same as they did in Belgium and France at the beginning of the war.

YOUNGSTERS TO ROMP IN FIELDS TO REGAIN HEALTH

Just to romp and play about the grassy lawns and get the color back into their pale little cheeks, and health into their frail bodies Charles Koogler, 7 and his brother, Joe, aged 9, were sent to the District Tuberculosis hospital at Springfield Tuesday by the County Commissioners.

Charles and Joe are two of the six Koogler children, who were brought up from Chillicothe several weeks ago and placed under the charge of the juvenile court. The motherless little ones, all of them under 12, had been under the care of Koss county juvenile authorities. Improper treatment which the little ones are said to have received at Chillicothe, where they were in a sort of detention home, is given as the reason for the deplorable state of health in which the two little boys were found.

They told Judge Marshall and Miss Bankard, superintendent of the County Children's Home that they had been sleeping on the floor, with insufficient bed clothing. Charles had the pleurisy, and he was sent to the McClellan hospital, where he was operated upon and a drainage tube inserted. He remained there for weeks, and became the pet of nurses and visitors, who were glad to see the ability to smile return to the little fellow's face, and the thin little cheeks round slowly out. Joe had bronchitis, and both brothers had ringworm of the scalp.

Although on the fair way to recovery, doctors decided that the little boy must have plenty of fresh air to prevent the possible development of tuberculosis, and so the children were sent to the District Hospital. The father of the children is George Koogler of Bath township. After the death of the children's mother he was unable to keep them together, and when he went to Chillicothe to live temporarily turned them over to county authorities.

"SCHOOL'S OUT"

The parochial schools will continue in session a week longer.

JUNIOR HIGH IS HIGHLY PRAISED BY SCHOOL PATRONS

After a year's experience with the Junior High School so much enthusiasm has developed over the plan among pupils, parents and teachers, that praise for the system inaugurated by Superintendent Patterson despite considerable adverse criticism last spring, characterized the first promotion exercises of McKinley Junior High Thursday night.

Seventy-eight children received certificates of promotion to the Senior High, from the hands of Superintendent Patterson. Six of their number represented the class as orators. The Junior High School, its inception, method and history, and the satisfaction it has given and success it has proven in every way furnished themes for the young speakers. The six orators were: Edwin Rentinger, LeRoy Regan, Paul Boxwell, Marjorie Clark, Martha Wilson and Elwood Smith.

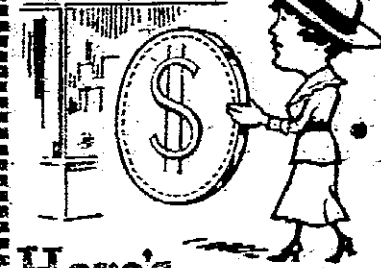

A short musical program was rendered. Miss Donna Fudge gave a piano solo, and Miss Alice Yowler sang, accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Balder. Four songs were sung by the class, with piano accompaniment by Miss Fern Jack. The members of the class were seated on the stage, which was decorated with plants and the class colors, red and black.

Superintendent Patterson in presenting the certificates gave a short talk regarding the Junior High School work.

YOUNG WOMAN IS CALLED AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

After only a few days serious illness, Miss Nellie Margaret McCabe passed away at 4:45 Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCabe on Cincinnati avenue.

She had been ailing several days last week but Saturday her condition became much worse. From the beginning the family was given no hope for her recovery.

Miss McCabe was born February 20, 1889, in Yellow Springs. She was a small child when her parents moved to this city, which has ever since been the home of the family. Surviving her are her parents, three sisters and a brother: Mrs. Oliver Jack of this city; Mrs. William Moyley of this city and Miss Agnes and James at home.

Miss McCabe was a girl of quiet and retiring nature and deeply religious sentiment. She was a member of St. Brigid's church, and of the Young Ladies' Sodality. Funeral services will be held at the church Monday at 8:30. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

RICH MAN WHIMPERS: CHILDREN "CARRY ON"

New York, June 7.—A wealthy Porto Rican, a passenger on the steamship Carolina, offered $1,000 for a chance to get into a life boat ahead of the children when the steamship was halted by a U-boat off the Delaware Capes Sunday evening, according to H. T. Smith, quartermaster of the Carolina and Marvin Carroll, a seaman.

Smith and Carroll told their stories at the office of the United States Shipping Commissioner.

"This man offered me $1,000 if I would let him into the life boat I was loading ahead of the women and children," said Carroll. "I pushed him aside until the women and children got places. When he got in."

"He and another man, who seemed to be wealthy, too, sat in the boat moaning and sobbing that they were too weak to help with the rowing. When I took off my coat to put it around one of the children in the boat one of these fellows actually tried to grab it and put it around himself."

"I threatened to throw him overboard if he didn't let go of it, and I'm sorry now that I didn't do it."

"The children and the women sat through the night without a whimper, but these fellows were moaning all the time."

"I'm going to enlist now and get square on those U-boats. If the navy won't have me I'll try the coast guard."

Carroll is a red-headed Irish-American who has been at sea since he was 14 years old.

LUXURIES AND WAR PROFITS TO FOOT THE BILL

Washington, June 7.—Secretary McAdoo yesterday recommended in a letter to Chairman Kitchin of the House Ways and Means committee, that the revenue bill be drawn to raise $8,000,000,000 by taxation one-third of the estimated $24,000,000,000 expenditures in the fiscal year 1919.

He also recommended that a war profits tax be established at high rates to be superimposed upon existing excess profits taxes, that the normal income tax on unearned incomes be raised and that heavy taxation be imposed on luxuries.

The suggestions were given in response to a letter from Kitchin and constituted an outline on the treasury's ideas not only of taxation to meet the nation's huge war expenses in the future, but of preparing the way for floating of additional billions of Liberty bonds.

Increasing the rate of normal taxes on incomes, from which Liberty bonds are exempt, said the secretary, will tend to make these bonds better investments, and to permit them to compete with industrial and municipal securities bearing higher rates of interest.

McAdoo made no attempt to specify the means of carrying out his suggestions in revenue legislation and did not intimate what articles might be classed as "luxuries" for heavier taxation. He stated, however, that in many cases the present excess profit taxes do not reach real war profits, for instance, where a corporation with big earnings made directly out of the war has also a big over-capitalization and, therefore, an apparently low rate of profit.

Not in His Line.

Miss Manchaster—"Have you ever considered the bonds of matrimony?" Mr. Stockson-Bonds—"Nope. Nothing doing in bonds that are not listed."

WOMAN IS LIKE A NEW PERSON

"I've gained in weight and I'm feeling like a different person since I've taken three bottles of Tanlac," said Miss May Murtz, 1,355 Main st., Cincinnati, O.

"I used to feel tired out all the time and didn't have the strength or ambition to do my work or anything else," Miss Murtz continued. "My stomach was out of order and I scarcely had any appetite at all. Everything I ate tasted alike. I got so I actually hated the smell of food."

"I had headache often, too, and I was nervous."

"I heard so much about Tanlac that I decided to try a bottle. I've taken three bottles now and I'm feeling like a different person. My appetite has come back fine and I'm gaining in strength and weight. I'm never tired out now like I used to be either, and I can do my work easily."

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today. Tanlac is made up entirely of vegetable ingredients—roots, barks and herbs and contains no mineral or chemical salts. It is an excellent strengthener and system builder. You can get Tanlac at Sayre & Hemphill's, D. D. Jones or H. C. Sohn's.

For Rheumatism.

Grandma Talks About Babies

Has a Large Circle of Listeners Who Profit by Her Wisdom and Experience.

In almost any community there is a grandma who knows Mother's Friend. Not only she, but her friends, her neighbors, her relatives, but it is through her recommendation that so many expectant mothers derived the comfort and blessing of this famous remedy. Mother's Friend is an external application prepared especially for expectant mothers after the formula of a noted family physician. It certainly has a wonderful effect in relieving tension brought about by expanding muscles, and is a most grateful encouragement to the woman awaiting motherhood.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive. When baby arrives they expand easily and pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Strain upon the nerves and ligaments is lessened and in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and happy anticipation.

Mother's Friend enables the mother to preserve her health and natural grace and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided the pain and suffering which more often than otherwise accompanies such an occasion when nature is so vulnerable.

Write the Bradford Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Mother's Friend" so valuable to expectant mothers, and in the meantime do not by any chance fail to purchase a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort. Mother's Friend should be applied night and morn'g with the utmost regularity.

Women! Stop Corn Pain! Few Drops and Corns Lift Out

Don't hurt a bit! Cincinnati man discovers drug that works miracles—No humbug!

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and calluses on your feet, but why care now?

This tiny bottle holds an almost magic fluid. A genius in Cincinnati discovered this other compound and named it Frezzone. Small bottles of Frezzone like here shown can be had at any drug store for a few cents. Don't limp or twist your face, but get a bottle of Frezzone and apply a few drops on your tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you can lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! You get rid of a hard corn, soft corn or a corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses without suffering one particle. Frezzone is magic! Keep it on dresser.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hawking and spitting and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications. S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, and removes the germs of the disease from the blood. Get a bottle from your druggist today, and begin the only logical treatment that gives real results. You can obtain special medical advice without charge by writing to Medical Director, 27 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Letters From Our Soldiers

Letters for this column from Greene county's soldiers are solicited. No matter whether the letter is from a soldier in the training camp or from the battle trenches it is of interest, not only to his close friends but to the general public. Therefore if you receive a letter from a soldier and it contains interesting news pass it along to the newspaper and we will publish it so all his friends may enjoy it. Soldiers are also invited to write directly to the newspaper.

Following is an interesting letter written by W. Jacob Smith to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Smith from Camp Sherman, before he left there for the east:

Camp Merritt, N. J., May 24, 1918.
Dear Mother and Dad:

Well we're still sticking around here but the rumors are that we are to leave Sunday night. Just how true or authentic this is I'm not able to say, but we have almost all our equipment so the chances are that we will be ready by that time.

I have only received one letter from Ruth since I've been here. Don't forget that taking mail is natural for I enjoy it as much, if not more, than you do. I missed a formation Monday evening and got three days in the kitchen as a consequence, but the Mess Sergeant and I are very friendly, so kitchen duty is as easy, if not easier, than some of the things the other fellows are doing. There are fourteen of us so it don't take long to clean things up.

To start us off well and in the proper way, the first thing we had to do Tuesday was scour the mess hall floor with bricks, a rather unusual way of scrubbing but when it was finished, it was as white as snow.

It might interest you Dad, to know how much it takes to feed our company, one day. Today the K. P.'s (Kitchen Police) peeled two and one half bushels of potatoes. Those lasted the three meals. One quarter of beef, 3 pans of apple pudding, holding somewhere near six gallons apiece, twenty gallons of coffee, three same sized pans of peas and fifty two pound cans of corned beef, along with fifty loaves of bread, was the quantity and menu for supper. Each day the Mess Sergeant spends something near one hundred and thirty dollars to make, or rather to appease our appetites.

We are only one company of probably thousands in the U. S., so by a little figuring you can get some idea as to the amount of money Uncle Sam spends each day to keep us fed.

It probably seems to people at home that Liberty Bonds are a bore, and some may think them unnecessary—but when one stops to think about the amount of money it takes to feed an army, without the clothes, ordnance, and a hundred and one other issues, it is not hard to comprehend why it is that people at home are continually being called upon to contribute. It is figured that the equipment issued each man in the service amounts to one hundred and fifty-seven dollars.

We are being equipped with brand new suits, each man getting two, new guns and in fact anything we have that is not first class is pronounced unserviceable and new equipment issued to replace it. Believe me when we land "over there" we're going to be some army, and people in Paris and later on, in Berlin, are going to wonder how we do it on a dollar per.

That reminds me that I drew 25 dollars and ten cents just before leaving Sherman, and it was the hardest twenty five "bucks" I've ever earned.

I have already explained how nicely situated this camp is, and how well it is arranged, but we are beginning to tire of it now and getting anxious to board the transport that is to take us to the big stage, already set for us to play our part of the drama upon. We will probably go to England for preliminary training and will likely not get a shot at a Boche until late fall.

I am to be detached from the company as soon as we get across and begin training with the Intelligence class again. We are to receive special training with telescopic sights on our rifles, so some of the folks at home who jokingly suggested that I get a Boche for them may have their wishes gratified.

There are so many things to write that I hardly know when to cease but in due justice to the man that has to deliver this, (Mr. Eckert) I'll exit here in order to relieve the pack he carries, for I know what packs are, are how just a little weight added or taken from affects a pack.

I'm sorry of course that I could not go to officers' training, for all of us would like to be officers but when the war is over the more varied amount of experience we privates will have had, will be worth a great deal. We will know just how everything came about, for we doughboys do them.

This may be my last letter before I get across, however, be sure to write often, for I'll need something to break up the monotony of "bally" German shells bursting near about.

Kindly distribute my sincerest regards to my good friends and always know mother dear, and Dad that I'm your grateful and loving son.

FAVORS HIGHER SALARIES FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

Indorsement of the fight being made by the school teachers for wage increases has been given by the National Education Association of the United States. In a letter sent to Senator J. Walter Smith, J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Education Association, says in part:

"The National Education Association begs you to take into account the increased cost of living in fixing the new schedule of salaries for the teachers of the District of Columbia. No generation in the history of our country has shown the patriotism and loyalty of the present generation educated almost exclusively in the public schools of this country. The teachers have certainly done their work well."

"In spite of the fact that the government fixes the compensation of teachers in the District of Columbia, the salaries have been below the cost of living in many instances. Instead of setting the example of over low salaries it would seem that the government ought to set the example of fair compensation."

"The shortage of teachers and the still greater shortage of those who are preparing to teach is creating a crisis in education in this country. You and your committee are in a position to improve this situation. You cannot afford to take action which will cripple the teaching profession, and hence the schools of the country. You cannot afford to starve the goose which has laid the golden egg."

"I would consider it a great advantage to the teaching interests of the entire country for you to place no minimum below $1,000, in fact, I do not think you should have any minimum below $1,200."

"Are you aware that the cost of living has increased 85 per cent in a comparatively short period of time? In my judgment the teachers of the District of Columbia by their work merit this recognition, and I also feel sure that the teachers throughout the country merit the advantages that will come to them from the government's paying a fair salary where it fixes the compensation."

NEW ORDER ISSUED AT WRIGHT FIELD

Under a new order issued by Major Welbourne, commandant at the Wilbur Wright aviation field, men stationed at that post are now permitted to leave the post for points within a radius of one mile without a pass. Heretofore they have been required to secure a pass to leave the grounds for any point.

The new order allows the men freedom to visit Fairfield and Osborn without going through the routine of securing an official permit.

Since the order has been issued many entertainments have been planned for them in Fairfield and Osborn, and many of these will be held for their benefit. It is now probable, it was said yesterday, that some fixed form of entertainment, such as picture shows, etc., will be started at Fairfield.

STOP CORN AGONY IN FOUR SECONDS

Use "Gels-it"—See Corns Peel Off!
The relief that "Gels-it" gives from corn-pains—the way it makes corns and calluses peel off painlessly in one piece—is one of the wonders of the world. The woman in the home, the shopper, the dancer, the foot traveler, the man in the office, the clerk in the store, the worker in the shop, have today, in this great discovery, "Gels-it" the one sure quick relief from all corn and callus pains—the one sure, painless remover that makes corns come off as easily as you would peel a banana. It takes 2 seconds to apply "Gels-it"; it dries at once. Then walk with painless joy, even with tight shoes. You know your corn will loosen from your toe—peel it off with your fingers. Try it, corn sufferers, and you'll smile!

"Gels-it," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifling sum at any drug store. M'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Xenia and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sayre & Remphill and D. D. Jones.

DRAFT BOARDS ARE ORDERED TO DIG UP MORE CLASS 1 MEN

Washington, June 7.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today sent orders to every local and district draft board to energetically re-examine men exempted or placed in deferred classes, to determine the reason for a scarcity of class one men.

The action was taken because a large number of counties and states fell below the 27.8 per cent average of class one men. Re-examination will be directed particularly at those who have tried to enter the navy, to evade the draft, "slacker" ship yard workers and men in other classes who have been granted special privileges, because they claimed they were engaged in necessary war work.

Following are the states in which some counties fell below even a 10 per cent classification in class one: California, New Mexico, Iowa, Ohio, Kentucky, North Carolina, Missouri, New York, Massachusetts.

COLLEGE TRUSTEES HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING THURSDAY

Trustees of Cedarville college held their annual meeting at the college Thursday, and the following members were present: Dr. Homer McMillan of Atlanta, Ga.; The Rev. Robert B. Wilson, of Jacksonville, Ill.; O. E. Bradette, Dr. W. R. McChesney, Prof. F. A. Jurkat, N. L. Ramsey, S. C. Wright and William Conley. Owing to the absence of the president, the Rev. W. R. Graham, of Rockville, Ill., who is engaged in war work at Newport News, Vice President S. C. Wright, presided at the session.

William Conley and Judge J. C. Marshall were elected to membership on the board, the former to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Rev. J. L. Chesnut, and the latter being selected by the alumni to fill the place of J. A. Finney, whose term has expired. Prof. F. A. Jurkat and N. L. Ramsey were re-elected to the board. William Conley was elected president of the board; S. C. Wright, secretary, and Prof. F. A. Jurkat, treasurer. The treasurer's report, which was received by the board, showed a balance of $700 in the treasury of the college, with all expenses paid. The endowment fund of the college now totals $103,000. The board accepted the resignation of Prof. John Bauman, instructor in science, who has been called into the government chemical service.

PROPRIETORS OF EATING HOUSES MEET WITH LOCAL FOOD COMMITTEE

Practically all of the restaurant and hotel proprietors in Greene county met Thursday afternoon with the Greene County Food committee at the County Auditor's office for the purpose of discussing the latest food regulations. The committee explained the new rules laid down by the Federal Food administrator to conserve wheat from this time until the new harvest. Under this rule no eating house may serve more than two ounces, gross weight of victory bread or rolls to any one person at any one meal or four ounces of "quick bread." Either may be served not both.

The restaurant and hotel people all seem anxious to obey the food laws and they indicated to the committee that they would do every thing in their power to carry out the wishes of the government. The committee impressed upon all present that it is their duty to help the food committee by reporting all the violations of the order that come to their attention. The committee promises to investigate all reported violations and in so doing will not use the name of the person filing the complaint.

The Federal Food Administration has informed the local committee that all violations will be severely dealt with in the future and the committee is given no choice other than to report every one who violates the rule.

The new rules are as follows:

Not more than two ounces, gross weight, of Victory Bread or rolls shall be served to any person at one meal.

Victory Bread must contain at least one pound substitutes with every three pounds of wheat flour.

Not more than four ounces, gross weight, of Quick breads, shall be served to any person at any one meal.

Quick Breads, include Boston Brown bread, batter cakes, waffles, corn bread muffins, baking powder biscuits, batter cakes, griddle cakes and all makes of fried mixtures of flour, meal or similar products. Such quick breads must contain one pound of substitutes with every two pounds of flour. No limit has been placed on the amount of wheatless bread which may be served in public eating places.

The total consumption of wheat flour inclusive of the wheat content of bread and rolls and all other bakery products, breakfast foods, macaroni, noodles, spaghetti and other alimentary pastes, shall not average more than six pounds for every ninety meals served.

These regulations must be followed strictly. County Food Administration committee and traveling representatives of the U. S. Food Administration will co-operate in reporting all violations which will be dealt with promptly.

Draped with a large United States flag, the chair of Daniel Lawrence Kennon stood in its place among his classmates at the alumni banquet of Cedarville college Thursday night.

Mr. Kennon is a member of the 1918 graduating class of C. C. but last week he was called into the service, going to Camp Taylor, and his companions paid him silent honor with the draped chair and the service flag which lay on the table where his cover would have been.

The war made a notable decrease in the attendance at the banquet, only about fifty persons being present, about one half the usual number. The national colors, and the senior

Honor Belongs to Maryland.

The first colonial assembly to enjoy the right of initiating legislation was the Maryland assembly, which convened in 1635 and was composed of representatives of the whole people—a purely democratic legislature. In the beginning every adult male citizen was permitted to sit in the assembly, but with the increase in population it was found necessary to limit the number, although there was still no legal restriction on the number of delegates the people might send.
